The Land Tax Records cover 1780 to 1831

Explanatory notes.

Sally Sherwood, a member of Normandy Historians, transcribed from the original records held at The Surrey Record Office (now The Surrey History Centre), the tax returns for most properties in the general area of Normandy, Wyke and Willey Green (the relevant part of Worplesdon now in Normandy), stating the owner, occupier and rental value of each property together with the occasional interest detail.

However, that work was rather repetitive because most properties did not change owner or tenant from year to year. Sally's original work has been summarised therefore. The summary is an excellent reference vehicle for the family history researcher.
